Recognition

Ramacrisna is among one of the Top 100 NGOs in Brazil for 4 consecutive years. The Award, which is the largest in the Third Sector in Brazil, recognizes non-profit organizations that have adopted good practices in many aspects, such as governance, transparency, communication, and funding.

The Top 100 NGOs exists since 2017 thanks to the partnership with Instituto Doar, which is Ambev's social and environmental projects agency, the technical assistance from the Fundação Getúlio Vargas (FGV) and the support from the Fundação Toyota do Brasil.

Management

Since 2008, the Ramacrinas Institute has the support of Fundação Dom Cabral in its process for the development of management skills and self-sustainability, having, thus, achieved significantly better results in its efforts to obtain resources, establish credibility and build partnerships, and improve the quality of its service and number of people benefited. All this knowledge has been crucial to our fight against Covid-19 during the year of 2020, favoring important readjustments that has allowed us to continue with our activities and bring extra support to the most fragile families in this difficult moment.

Donations

2020 has been a year different from everything we have ever lived; therefore, it was necessary to offer extra help for the families supported by the Ramacrisna Institute. With the aid of important partners, touched by the gravity of the Covid-19 emergency, the Institute has been able to distribute a lot of food and, personal hygiene items, Christmas toys and 600 internet chips, aimed at providing remote education access to children and young adults.
